

Investment in the Brazilian food and agriculture system (Innovation, Agricultural Productivity and Sustainability in Brazil)

This chapter presents an overview of Brazilian regulations that govern entrepreneurship, access to natural resources, products, and processes and the extent to which they affect the adoption of innovative practices and the introduction of new products. It also discusses Brazilian policies related to trade, investment, finance and taxation and their impact on the capacity of farms and agri-food firms to invest and take advantage of market opportunities.
