

Performance-based funding for public research in tertiary education institutions: Country experiences (Performance-based Funding for Public Research in Tertiary Education Institutions: Workshop Proceedings)

This chapter presents the results of a survey on funding models. It looks at rationales for the use of performance-based funding systems and outlines the key features of schemes and systems currently in use, including frequency of assessment and the allocation of funds. It discusses the effects of using performance-based funding as well as interactions with other funding mechanisms.
